ALFALFA AND CORN SPECIAL

Under Auspices of State Department of Agriculture.

ARRIVE SEPTEMBER 29.
Farmers Should Be Here In Large Numbers, For Information.

Farmers should keep in mind the "Alfalfa and Corn Special," which will leave Louisville next Monday morning and make a three days' tour of the State. The object of this special is to give the farmers an opportunity of more fully informing themselves as to the great value of alfalfa as a rich food and enricher of the soil. Some of the farmers in this section know something of alfalfa but the majority do not.

It has been tested and proven that alfalfa can be raised in sections of Kentucky to great advantage, and it will be to the interest of Christian farmers to be here on the day the special arrives. Mr. Joseph E. Wing, of Ohio, will be the principal lecturer on alfalfa. He is a man thoroughly up on the subject and can tell even those who know something of the comparatively new food and ground enricher things that will be of lasting benefit to them.

Prof. P. G. Holden, of Ames, Iowa, will be in charge of the corn department. He is one of the foremost agricultural experimenters in the United States, and acting under suggestions from him in their selection of seed corn, points on planting, etc., the corn crop of Iowa last year was increased 10,000,000 bushels. He should certainly be heard by all our farmers.

This special is run under the auspices of the State Department of Agriculture, is solely for the benefit of the farmers and should have their hearty encouragement and co-operation. Don't imagine for one moment that it is for the good of any one but the tiller of the ground. He will be the only beneficiary, though eventually all will be more or less financially the better off by this broadcast sowing of information by men who, by practical experience, have gained their information and are willing to let all have the benefit of it.

Remember the day—Friday, September 29. The train will arrive here at 8:45 in the morning and stop just 45 minutes. If you are late your opportunity is lost. This is the first special of the kind. Every farmer should be here.

FEVER FIGURES.

Only 10 Deaths in New Orleans Since Last Report.

At New Orleans Monday: New cases 34, deaths 6. Tuesday: New cases 31, deaths 4. Total cases, 2,639, deaths 345. In other points in Louisiana 20 new cases and 4 deaths were reported yesterday.

In Mississippi, Vicksburg reported 6, Natchez 2, Mississippi City 2, Gulfport 1 and Hamburg 1 case. One of the cases at Natchez is a niece of Mrs. J. R. Armistead, of this city.

OFFICIAL ENTOMOLOGIST

Mr. Richard J. Brand, an entomologist from the Agricultural bureau at Washington, was in the county yesterday and met a number of representative farmers at J. B. Walker's farm, to investigate the insects that have been so destructive to the clover crop this year. Prof. H. Garmon, from the State College, was here recently for the same purpose, and the Government official has doubtless come at his suggestion. A good many farmers met Mr. Brand and gave much information about the new pest. His report will be made later.

CANSLER'S REFUTATION.

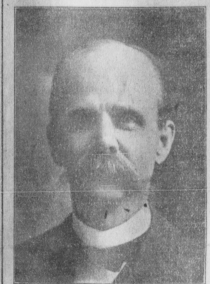

Resents Messenger's Insinuations Recently Published.

A CONSERVATIVE CARD.
Will Have More to Say On the Stump Concerning Campaign Attacks.

EDITOR KENTUCKIAN:

On the editorial page of last week's issue of the Hopkinsville Messenger, appeared quite a lengthy article in reference to me and matters connected with the canvass now being made in the county.

As it deals nearly entirely with my political history and the manner in which the candidates of both parties now before the people for county offices got their nomination all of which the public is familiar with, I will ask you for space in the columns of your paper to answer but one statement embraced in the article.

In doing so, it must be understood that inasmuch as the young man whose name appears as the editor of the Messenger was an infant in his mother's arms when some of the incidents are said to have occurred, and fully realizing the situation he occupies, it is not intended in this statement to cast any reflections whatever on his good name, as I take it that the article in question was prepared on information given him by some one much older than himself.

The article would have its readers infer that while County Judge of this county, and again while making the race for the nomination four years ago, that I admitted that I had bought certain election officers in that primary to make false returns of the election in their precinct for myself and others.

In answer to this intimation, I will say that no person can truthfully say that I ever made such admission. Nor can any person truthfully say that I, at any time or place in my life, advised, asked or insisted on any one counting a vote for me that was cast for another.

Such other matters embraced in the article as reflect on me in any way, will be answered by me in public speeches as the canvass progresses, and in a way satisfactory to all fair-minded voters. Respectfully,

POLK CANSLER.

ROBERT GRAHAM DEAD.

Was Brother-in-law of Mr. J. W. Williams.

Mr. Robt. Graham, a brother-in-law of Mr. J. W. Williams, of this city, died Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at Hadensville. He had been ill for two or three months and the end was not unexpected by his family. His remains were carried to Pembroke for interment yesterday. His widow and five children survive him. Pain from a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

Mr. James N. Nichols, a merchant and postmaster at Vernon, Conn., makes the following statement: A little child of Michael Strauss was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation Mr. Strauss came to me for something to stop the little one's pain. From the many liniments I carry in stock I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains, and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

Robert E. Poynter, a well-known young man of Mayfield, Ky., attempted suicide there, shooting himself three times.

Abscess.

Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I went to a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment. I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world. Sold by Cook & Higgins.

THE PARSON'S SUBSTITUTE.

Judson's Corners was going to church. For nearly four months the roads had been almost impassable. Backsiders were many, for it meant a day's work to clean Judson mud off spring wagon, and harness.

Mr. Bliss smiled a smug little smile and gently tapped his hymn book with his glasses. "It will be a good day for my spring missionary sermon," said he. "I thought so. I wonder if Amos Billings has sold his town lot yet." And he mentally counted the tenth.

As he turned to go back into the church he became aware that some one had stepped around the east corner by the sycamore. He saw that the newcomer wanted to speak to him and he waited.

As the man approached the clergyman noted his appearance. He was a small man about his own build and poorly dressed, ragged, in fact. He was pale and clean-shaven except for small sideburns, an odd accompaniment of rags. His hat, having lost any trace of its original shape, is best described as slouch. It was pulled down over his eyes.

"You are Rev. Mr. Moses P. Bliss, I presume," was the very elegant remark of the stranger. And what was more wonderful to the astonished minister, he took off his hat and bowed like a Chesterfield.

"Ah—yes. What can I do for you?" he replied. He was going to add "my good man," but stopped.

"I would like to speak to you in your study for a few minutes. I won't keep you long. I see Hiram Jenkins' sign is the first on the hill and he won't be here for a few minutes yet. Of course—if—"

"Oh, certainly, certainly. Come right in. I am always glad even at the eleventh hour to show a brother the way; the way to a better life. Just follow me."

As they walked through the empty little church with its bar-wooden pews, the minister nudged his brain. "Who can he be?"

His face seemed familiar and I am sure I have seen him before. A lost sheep come back to the fold, I judge. Well, we'll see; we'll see."

They walked up the three steps to the pulpit, then crossed it and went through a small door at the back which led to the study. Mr. Bliss closed it carefully and motioned his visitor to a chair.

"Sit down, my friend," he said, as he went to the table and laid down his glasses and books. "What can I do for you?"

"Just this, old duffer," said the stranger, pleasantly; "take off your clothes."

The astonished old man was reaching for his handkerchief when he heard the remarkable demand, but he dropped his arms and looked up, too amazed to speak.

"Why—I—don't—" but the words died in his throat as he suddenly saw a six shooter not twelve inches from his nose.

"No 'why's' and 'don't's.' Do what I tell you and hurry about it, too. I'll give you fifteen seconds for your coat and vest and as many more for your trousers. And I want your shirt and collar and—"

Resistance never entered his head. He slipped off the coat and vest and even the collar and tie—he slipped. A sound reached them. It was the Jenkins family entering the church. A quick hope showed in the good man's face; he'd call.

"Yell and I'll finish you."

Rev. Mr. Bliss was ready for anything now. He was fully prepared to do handspins down the church aisle, or to climb the bell-rope, or to run fifty times around the church, all the while saying: "The devil was chasing his mother round the stump," to the tune of a gun banging after him at every corner. But he wasn't prepared for what happened.

"Now I'll give you two minutes to get the whole outfit on your truly."

So, to the accompaniment of some more oaths, everyone of which made him jump, the clergyman obeyed. If the congregation could have seen through the study door a strange sight would have met their gaze; their own beloved pastor in his underclothes, tying a black cravat on a minister.

POLITICS.

With the war in the East settled and the tobacco crop sold, the people are beginning to turn their attention to politics.

The one feature of the present campaign in Christian county is the steady improvement in the prospects for Democratic success.

Present indications are that the Republicans will have their hands full from now on.

There is undoubtedly widespread dissatisfaction in the Republican party, both among the white and colored voters. The Democratic candidates who have been over North Christian say that in some precincts nearly half of the Republicans will support at least a part of the Democratic ticket.

Judge Cansler who has canvassed in South Christian is greatly encouraged at the support that will come from the colored Republicans. He says he will get from 1,000 to 1,500 colored votes, from the present outlook, and that most of them will refuse to support any part of the Republican ticket.

Democrats are becoming confident and entire harmony seems to prevail in the party. The presence of Judge Cansler on the ticket is proving to be a source of great strength. He supported the Democratic fusion ticket in 1901 and few, if any, Democrats decline to support him this time.

The Republicans themselves recognize that he will in all probability lead the Democratic ticket and their organ has already begun to assail him as the dangerous man to their interests. There are rumors also of growing fear and discouragement on the Republican side and altogether the situation is daily growing better for the Democrats.

The county is to-day good fighting territory.

YOUTHFUL COUPLE

Eloped to Clarksville And Were Married.

C. O. Eggleston and Miss Mabel Watson, of Hopkinsville, were united in marriage Monday morning about 8 o'clock at the court-house by Dr. A. P. McFerrin, says the Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle. The couple arrived on the early morning train. A few minutes after the ceremony Chief of Police Robinson received a telephone message from the young man's father, J. H. Eggleston, a well known tannery of Hopkinsville, requesting him to stop the marriage, saying his son was only 17 years old. The father was too late, however, the marriage ceremony having been performed about half an hour before. The bride is about eighteen years old and very pretty. They returned to Hopkinsville on the Tennessee Central at 10:10 a. m. to seek parental forgiveness.

Water Company No Longer Waiting On a Contingency.

The Hopkinsville Water Company means business now, has meant it all the time, but has been hampered in its movements by the refusal of Mr. Lee Ellis to part with a piece of land adjoining its site for making a large lake. The tract of land the company has wanted contains 35 acres, and it has been trying to get Mr. Ellis, as the water company's manager, Mr. T. W. Morris, tells us, to part with it since spring, but Mr. Ellis failed to consider any offer for it; so the company, as a last resort, instituted condemnatory proceedings. Three appraisers, Messrs. J. M. Starling, Lowe Johnson and C. B. Meacham, were appointed to appraise the land, and made their report at $25 per acre, and the company will become the owners unless an appeal is taken. In that event only a very little time will be lost.

The refusal of Mr. Ellis to sell has caused the company to delay progress in their work to some extent, though they have never abandoned the idea of building a larger reservoir or lake. The rapid increase in population demands a much larger supply of water, and the sewerage system now being put in makes it absolutely necessary. The enclosed space to be filled with water will contain 60 acres and will hold 100,000,000 gallons of water. The lake will be fed from springs and will be perfectly clear. It will be known, probably, as "Reservoir No. 2," and will be connected with the reservoir in use at present. If, for any cause, it should be desired to temporarily abandon reservoir No. 1, then No. 2 can be called into use in a moment's time—merely by opening the flood gate. The capacity of the new reservoir, Mr. Morris says, will supply the city with all the water it needs during a drought—even if not a drop of water should fall within a year.

The company, as was published in this paper some weeks since, has had surveys made, employed experts to pass on the surveys and has done everything it could preparatory to commencing work on the stone walls. Now they are blasting rock for that purpose and expect to have the reservoir completed before the end of the year.

This enterprise means a great deal more to our people than can be readily seen. The body of water will be so great that every kind of game fish will be raised—even the market may be supplied. It is the intention of the company to stock the reservoir, lake is really the proper word as soon as it is filled. There will then be no necessity of going ten or twenty miles away from home for a day's angling. There will be a man in charge of the lake who will supply the bait and tackle, if desired, and all one will have to do will be to find time to spare for a day's rest and recreation.

It is probable that a number of boats will be available at any time, and our people can then indulge in boat parties. That will indeed be an opportunity for young people to enjoy themselves that they have never before had.

The grounds surrounding the lake will be amply large for holding pic-nics, and planting trees for shade will be one of the first things the company will do, should more be needed. During the summer months the lake will be a great resort for people who have to be cooped up in town during the week, and no doubt

Ayer's Pills
Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Use arrangements will be made for supplying them with light drinks during the day's outing.

The above is not a pipe dream and its fulfillment is not dependent on the sale of a franchise and the use of it. It is a project that has been in contemplation for months, and by men who are able to carry out the minutest detail. It is a generally admitted fact that a place as large as this needs a park. We must have one, and who knows but that the water company will yet furnish the people with this long-felt want?

Everybody will appreciate the far-sightedness and enterprise of the Water Company and wish for them a speedy completion of their work and a good income from their investment. The total amount to be invested will reach about $10,000, and when the street railway is built it might be well for the circuit of the line going to the asylum to be run near the lake.

JOHN C. DAVIS SHOT TO DEATH.

His Son-in-Law, Jim Courtney, Did the Killing.

CONFLICTING REPORT.

Coroner Reports that He Died From a Gunshot Wound in the Back.

A tragedy occurred at the home of John C. Davis, about two miles from the city, Tuesday afternoon about two o'clock, in which Mr. Davis was killed by his son-in-law, James Courtney.

The wife of Mr. Courtney was the only witness of the affair, and as she is prohibited by the law from testifying, Courtney's version may have to be accepted.

Mr. Davis was at one time in the Asylum and it is said by persons best acquainted with him that, though there was no indication of insanity, during the latter years of his life, he was subject to frequent outbursts of high temper, and at any imaginary provocation seemed anxious to settle the difference by a fight. When there was nothing to disturb him he was calm and agreeable to everyone.

Before the killing he was evidently in great mental trouble. By persistent work and strict economy he had made a good living for his family and paid for a good farm, and was what is termed "a well fixed farmer."

The day before his tragic end he was in town and told a friend with whom he had long been acquainted that he was in trouble, that his son-in-law was preparing to leave him and some of the family wanted him to rent or sell out and move into the city. He was advised to camp; to town and leave the management of the farm to his son.

James Courtney, who did the killing, is a son of the late Jonas Courtney. Mrs. Courtney and her younger son, Edward, have been living in the city for several years. James Courtney married a daughter of Mr. Davis several years ago, and were told that he has lived with the family since becoming a member of it.

The killing, as near as we can give it from different sources, is briefly as follows: Davis and Courtney were in a barn firing tobacco, when a subject that had been previously discussed was again opened and, according to Courtney's version, Mr. Davis' temper got the better of his discretion, and he started at his son-in-law in a threatening manner, when Courtney left the barn, to get out of his way, starting direct to the house, followed by his assailant with a cross-cut saw. His story is that with the knowledge that his father-in-law, about thirty years ago had been adjudged insane and had spent some time in the asylum and believing that his life was in danger, as his pursuer followed him to the house, he grabbed his gun and fired, some of the shot taking effect just below the left breast and one or two in the abdomen. Mr. Davis fell and lived but a short time after.

Courtney came to town and gave himself up to the authorities and was sent to the county jail until a time is set for his examining trial. On being notified of the killing, Coroner Allensworth went to the Davis home where the body was lying and summoned a jury, which inquired into the matter as far as possible and rendered the following verdict:

We, the jury, sworn by Coroner Allensworth to look into the cause of the death of John C. Davis, find he came to his death by a gun in the hands of James Courtney. We further find that one load was a glancing shot from the right side. We further find that the load that killed him took effect in his back.

J. H. Duval, foreman.
G. T. Littlefield, J. D. Lacy, R. F. Witte, D. R. Meacham, 1906. E. L. Leach.

Important business demanding Judge Fowler's attention elsewhere, he left the city yesterday morning. Before leaving he fixed next Friday morning as the day on which a motion admitting Courtney to bail will be heard. It is generally understood that Courtney will enter a plea of self-defense.

There were no witnesses to the killing except Courtney's wife, who declined to talk about it. The fact that the fatal shot entered Davis' back, is in direct refutation of Courtney's story that he shot Davis in the breast as he was advancing upon him with a saw in his hand. J. H. Duval and G. T. Littlefield, two of the jurors who arrived before the body was picked up, are quoted as saying that there was no saw or other weapon where Davis fell.

THE COUNTY CHAIRMAN

At Opera House Monday Night, Oct. 2.

George Ade's successful comedy "The County Chairman" which Henry W. Savage offers at Holland's Opera House Oct. 2, was the notable hit of the season in New York two years ago. There is a pretty love story and many exciting dramatic episodes in the play and a score or more of village types that every theatre goer who has been in the country will at once recognize. There is Jim Hackler, the bluff, big-hearted county chairman of Jefferson county with a kind word for every one, except his life-long enemy, Judy Rigby, a grasping "tight fist" politician. Sassafras Livingston, the shiftless hariker who sells his vote to the darkest bidder but he "won't stay sold" as one of the candidates expresses it. There too, are Uncle Eck, the oldest inhabitant; the village boarding house keeper and her oratorical husband who hates work; the fly-drummer from Chicago; the handsome young lawyer and the attractive young school teacher to whom he is engaged; the editor of the county newspaper, the village orphan and thifty characters. George Ade did not guess at his type. His boyhood was passed among just such characters in Indiana, and that one reason why they are so life like and real human beings on the stage. It is through the naturalness of "The County Chairman" that the best appeal is made.

Henry W. Savage has given the production an elaborate setting and the spectacular side of "The County Chairman" is so impressive that the play has won the title of "The pictorial comedy."

GO TO GUTHRIE FOR BIGGEST OF ALL THE RALLIES

Tobacco Planters Will Meet Ten Thousand Strong.

ON NEXT SATURDAY.

Oratory and Music. Special Railroad Rates From Everywhere.

Following up the big tobacco meeting held here last Saturday, the Tobacco Association will have another great district rally at Guthrie Saturday of this week. Many of the best speakers of Kentucky and Tennessee will be on hand and deliver addresses.

Hopkinsville is preparing to send a big turnout. The delegation from this county will take a band of music and take part in the monster parade to be a feature of the rally.

Great preparations are being made to entertain everybody. There will be a big free barbecue and plenty for all to eat.

The L. & N. Railroad will give a four-cent round trip rate, or 36 cents for the trip from this city.

Col. Ewing says it will be the largest of all the meetings yet held and coming as it does close after the closing of the big deal with the Regie people it will be in the nature of a jubilation meeting.

Mr. Joseph Ferigo is still here and may himself attend the meeting to see how much in earnest the planters are. Let Hopkinsville do her full part and send the biggest crowd to Guthrie that ever left the city at one time.

Clarksville is Sore.

"The Tobacco Leaf whinnily says in explanation of the bad repute in which Clarksville finds itself:

"The Hopkinsville papers are making a great blow over the temporary advantage which they imagine Hopkinsville has gained by Mr. Ferigo desiring type samples sent from Clarksville to that place for him to examine and class. The boycotters here, smarting under the exposure of their folly and suicidal policy, are filling the town with hot air exultations, charging that the Leaf-Chronicle is responsible. No man of common sense will give credence to such silly twaddle. It may serve to ease some aching hearts who have lost out by suffering themselves to be dragged into such a miserable trap, and have not the courage to throw off the yoke and assert their better sense and manhood.

Mr. Ferigo has given but one reason for not wanting to come here to go over the types; and this was expressed to a gentleman at Guthrie before any types were shipped to him: He said to this well known gentleman that he did not want to come to Clarksville, as he wished to steer clear of the influence of the Board of trade and boycotters, and it was simply a matter of courtesy that the Association managers deferred to his wishes. Mr. Ferigo, however, had other reasons for his action which we fully understand, but it is not proper to mention them just now. These are the facts and boycotters and Hopkinsville can make the most of them.

This sort of thing is not becoming in Hopkinsville, whose people and press have done so rarely nothing for the association, allowing the fine tobacco of that great county to go to the trust, making but little effort to organize and seeping but little tobacco for the association. As to our boycotters, they have been higgling two months over Mr. Ewing's concession for reconciliation, which they solicited, but not until Mr. Ferigo came in to buy this tobacco could they come to any agreement among themselves."

Startling Mortality.

Statistics show startling mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases, there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for Constipation and Biliousness." 23c at R. C. Hardwick's drug store.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because it's for One Thing Only, and Hopkinsville is Learning to Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They cure sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ill. Here is Hopkinsville evidence to prove it.

Mrs. J. T. Johnson, wife of J. T. Johnson, superintendent of streets, living at 615 North Main street, says: "During the latter part of last summer I noticed growing upon me a dull aching across the small of my back which kept getting worse until finally the pain became so severe that I was hardly able to walk around, and many times could not attend to my household duties. The trouble I believe came from my kidneys for I suffered from other distressing symptoms of complaint. I was subject to the most severe headaches and frequent attacks of dizziness. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and my husband got a box for me. They did me wonderful amount of good. I felt much better and stronger in every way than I had for some years. I do not know what I should have done if it had not been for Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

Probably no more interesting and no more odd a match had been recorded in the annals of pugilism than that which was the other day contracted for by James Edward Britt and Nathan Nelson of Chicago. Britt was victorious, at least he was awarded the decision by the referee, in the previous fight between the pair, but there are many fight fans to-day who declare that the "native son" feature had much to do with the referee's opinion and that Nelson really had the best of the argument. Had the men been given an extra round it is declared that the boy of the coast would have taken the count. Nelson regarded the decision as such a glaring breach of Queensberry etiquette that he has practically challenged the California lad. In his last deed Nelson offered to accept any terms which might be offered, although for the privilege of getting one more chance at Britt. Now he has that chance and fight fans in and about Chicago are predicting great things for Nelson. The men have signed articles to fight 25 rounds before the Colma Athletic club at Union Courting park on September 9 for a purse of $10,000 or 65 per cent. of the gross receipts and a $10,000 side bet. The winner is to take all. Both men are to weigh 135 pounds on the morning of the contest. The referee was not arrived at after three hours of wrangling. Britt insisted upon a $20,000 purse of 65 per cent. of the receipts at his option, but, refused to concede the same choice to Nelson, who is only to receive the percentage if he wins. As the club refused to guarantee the cash purse, Nelson's manager guaranteed to make up any deficit between the gross receipts and the $20,000 purse. The referee will be chosen two weeks before the contest.

It often happens that childlessness is due to conditions which may be corrected. Many women have found that the vitality and vigor imparted by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to the womanly organs, has been the one thing needed to fulfill the long-sought wish. This famous medicine is not a cure-all.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. I should never enjoy good health again. What I suffered with disease, worry, cannot express. Had distressing tearing-down pains, painful swellings, and there was nothing left of me but a shadow. I always keep the medicine on hand now, and recommend them to all my friends. Yours truly, Mrs. J. M. Rogers, 626 1/2 Street, Rossmore, Albany, N. Y.

The familiar face of Jack O'Connor, for 15 years a backstop in the big leagues, has been seen on the diamond this season. Before his retirement from baseball, his Albee, manager with the St. Louis Americans regarded him as the king of catchers and the pair were the best of friends. For 15 years O'Connor and Albee have been comrades. When Jack was a known quantity in baseball Albee spared of frame and timid, as a schoolboy, joined the Cleveland "Spiders." The team's modestly attracted the brusk and open-hearted O'Connor, and he took him under his protection and acted as sponsor, for him. The pair became inseparable companions, and during the term of their service with the Cleveland club were roommates. Albee proved the sensations of the big leagues, and O'Connor gloried in Jimmy's success as much as if it were his own triumph, over which he loved to dwell. O'Connor's retirement did not break up the old friendship that has always existed between him and Mr. Albee.

The catcher decided to devote all his time this summer to his business, with the exception of Sunday, when he may catch for a semi-professional team and act as manager. Jack is one of the oldest catchers in point of service in baseball to-day. He started to catch when he was a boy, and has been at it ever since. He was with the Robins at Cleveland for more than a decade, and they declare that he was one of the trickiest and most conscientious ball players that ever worked for them.

When the Robinsons transferred their National League franchise to St. Louis O'Connor came here, but he was traded for a cash consideration to Pittsburgh. In Pittsburgh O'Connor was a warm favorite and developed such popularity that he was traded to New York. When he broke out between the American and National leagues O'Connor cast his lot with the Yankees and took with him to New York such players as Chesbro, Conroy, Jimmy Williams and "Lefty" Davis. O'Connor had some of his best days with the Yankees, and he knows how to work better to perfection.

OBSTINATE CASES

Of leucorrhoea, excessive flowing, painful periods, or apoplexy, or falling of womb, attended by weak back, bearing-down sensations, irritation of rectum, pain in the pelvis, etc.

and tenderness of ovaries, are almost always cured by a fairly persistent use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If in any case it should, in due time, not seem quite adequate to meet every phase of some complicated case, Dr. Pierce always stands ready to offer valuable suggestions based upon years of varied experience which often prove of inestimable value. This he does entirely free of charge to those using his medicines. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 635 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

but a specialist's prescription, having as a single aim the cure of disease, would be of no use to you.

Reliable dealers recommend "Favorite Prescription." With tricky ones, beware, for they pay them better will probably be used upon you as "just as good." Perhaps it is for this reason that it can't be for you. Some saving may be made by purchasing our medicines in half-doz quantities.

If you are convinced that the "Favorite Prescription" is the medicine you need, do not be ejected into accepting something else. The attempt to induce you to do so is an insult to your intelligence. Turn your eyes on the one who offers the affront.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS

Cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, constiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, heart-burn, pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Persons subject to any of these troubles should never be without a vial of the "Pleasant Pellets" at hand. They are always ready as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in glass vials, tightly corked, therefore always fresh and reliable.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. As a "dinner pill," to remove digestion, take one each day, eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

Doctor Pierce's great thousand-page "Common Sense" book, which is sent for the mere cost of mailing; paper-bound for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. It is a grand and useful book. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 635 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Gus Sun's Minstrels.

The above celebrated aggregation of burnt cork artists will hold the boards at Holland's Opera House, Wednesday night, September 27. Concerning their appearance at Springfield, O., recently, the Springfield Sun says: "A packed house greeted Gus Sun's Minstrels at the City hall last evening where they gave their initial performance of the season, and a better pleased audience would be hard to find."

When the curtain went up at 8:15 the spectacle was dazzling.

The olio consisted of six excellent acts.

Sun's Minstrels leave the city to-day and are well up to Sun's high standard, in fact it is probably the best singing aggregation that he has ever put on the road. Their route is to be the Pacific coast, playing in Dayton, Denver, San Francisco and other points."

TRAINED WILD ANIMALS

Great Parker Amusement Co. Carries a Large Menagerie.

Without doubt the largest collection of trained wild beasts of the forests and jungles is to be seen with the Great Parker Amusement Co. at the coming carnival, Oct. 2-7.

The collection comprises 12 big gilded cages of animals, including Nubian lions, bears, wolves, leopards, jaguars, panthers, hybrids, panthers, tigers, and the ferocious untamable lioness, Sultana, who holds the record for man killing.

Princess De La Warr, who during her engagement at the Empire Theatre, London, England, and at a special exhibition of animal training given before King Edward and the royal family was given the title by his highness, of the "Empress of Lions," a fitting one from the fact that the little lady probably carries more scars resulting from her many thrilling encounters with the monarchs of the forest than any other lady on earth. She handles a group of forest bred, Nubian lions, and Siberian bear bounds in a mammoth 60 foot steel bound arena, and presents the most remarkable pyramids and groupings together with other illustrations of woman's supremacy are not only exciting, but truly a lesson in natural history well worth seeing.

Capt. Cardona, the plucky little Frenchman, who enters the iron bound den of Sultana, the untamable lioness, possesses more pluck and courage than any other trainer in the world. Twice he has been attacked by this vicious beast, once with the Hagenback show at Havre, France; he was terribly lacerated and torn, and was sent to a hospital, where he lingered between life and death for three weeks, and eight months had passed before he was able to move one foot before the other.

The next time he attempted to enter Sultana's cage was during the winter of 1903, at the Zoo, St. Louis, and this time the lioness sprang at him and sunk her teeth through his wrist breaking the bone in four places. Keepers rushed to his assistance and by beating the animal off thus saved his life.

Mlle. Wamette, the dainty little Parisian trainer, puts bears, wolves, and panthers through a remarkable performance without a tremor of fear, while Pere Lamont introduces Fatima, the famous dancing bear, the largest of the cinnamon species in captivity. Then there is a big, happy family of monkeys and other strange animals on the promenade, and a capable naturalist is always on hand to explain every feature in detail.

The animal arena should prove a big winner, as the Hagenback animals are famous all over the world.

POOR SHOOTING

Done by the Gun Club Last Tuesday.

The members of the gun club were all off in their clay bird shooting last Tuesday. Something was the matter with almost everything. Either the shells were not of the right make, too much or too little powder in them, the wind didn't blow right, the sun hurt their eyes, or the trap threw the birds wrong and numerous other things kept them from killing as many birds as they wanted to.

The best score was made by Dr. Woodward, who killed 21 birds out of a possible 25. Below is the score made out of a possible 25:

Dr. Woodward	21
Guy Starling	20
E. M. Moss	19
Charles Prowse	19
Archie Gant	17
Harry Keetch	15

The above score was made in the contest for the trophy cup.

MOVING PICTURES

Taken Here Recently, to be Seen at Opera House.

The world in motion under the direction of the Fish-Stock Company will be presented at Holland's Opera House, Sep. 29 and 30.

This attraction will present the local moving pictures taken here a few days ago in connection with a fine list of pictures from every section of the country. All the latest foreign pictures, together with all the new comedy stories will be presented, mechanical effect and illusions. The vaudeville features are numerous and include Miss Grace Gilmore Hamilton, the celebrated lyric entertainer, Miss Lulu Konri, soprano soloist, C. W. Mullen, pianist and the sensation of two continents LaProtea. What and who is LaProtea? this is a question that has kept the wise ones guessing for two seasons in Europe and now Mr. T. V. Stock is going to give the American theatre goers a chance to figure the mystery out. LaProtea offers a large field for conclusion.

There is nothing magical about it. It is an illusion that is not an illusion but the question still remains the same as at first. "What, and who is LaProtea?" perhaps you can figure it out. See it and try.
